ABOUT

Nehru college of Engineering and Research centre is located on the northern slopes of Thiruvilwamala which merges with the banks of the holy river Nila, which offers 5 undergraduate courses and 7 post graduate courses in engineering. In Kerala Nehru College of Engineering and Research Centre is the first college which started the branch of Mechatronics in 2013. As a part of the Association of the Mecahtronics Department - ASIMOS, we organize guest lectures, seminars and expert talks for the technological growth of the students which results in innovative startups, every academic semester. The main objective of the seminar is to make the aspiring engineers acquainted with the complete conceptual knowledge of the advanced materials for the mechatronics system design and the influence of nanotechnology applications. The idea of organizing the seminar is to inculcate the basic fundamentals of nanotechnology and its application in the students and provide them with a platform to work on in the near future. Nanotechnology is the engineering of functional systems at the molecular scale. This covers both the current work and the concepts that are more advanced in its original sense. Nanotechnology refers to the projected ability to construct items from the bottom up using techniques and tools being developed today to make complete high performance products in engineering.

1. Conscientious Objection and Human Rights: Jehovah's Witnesses- a Case in Point

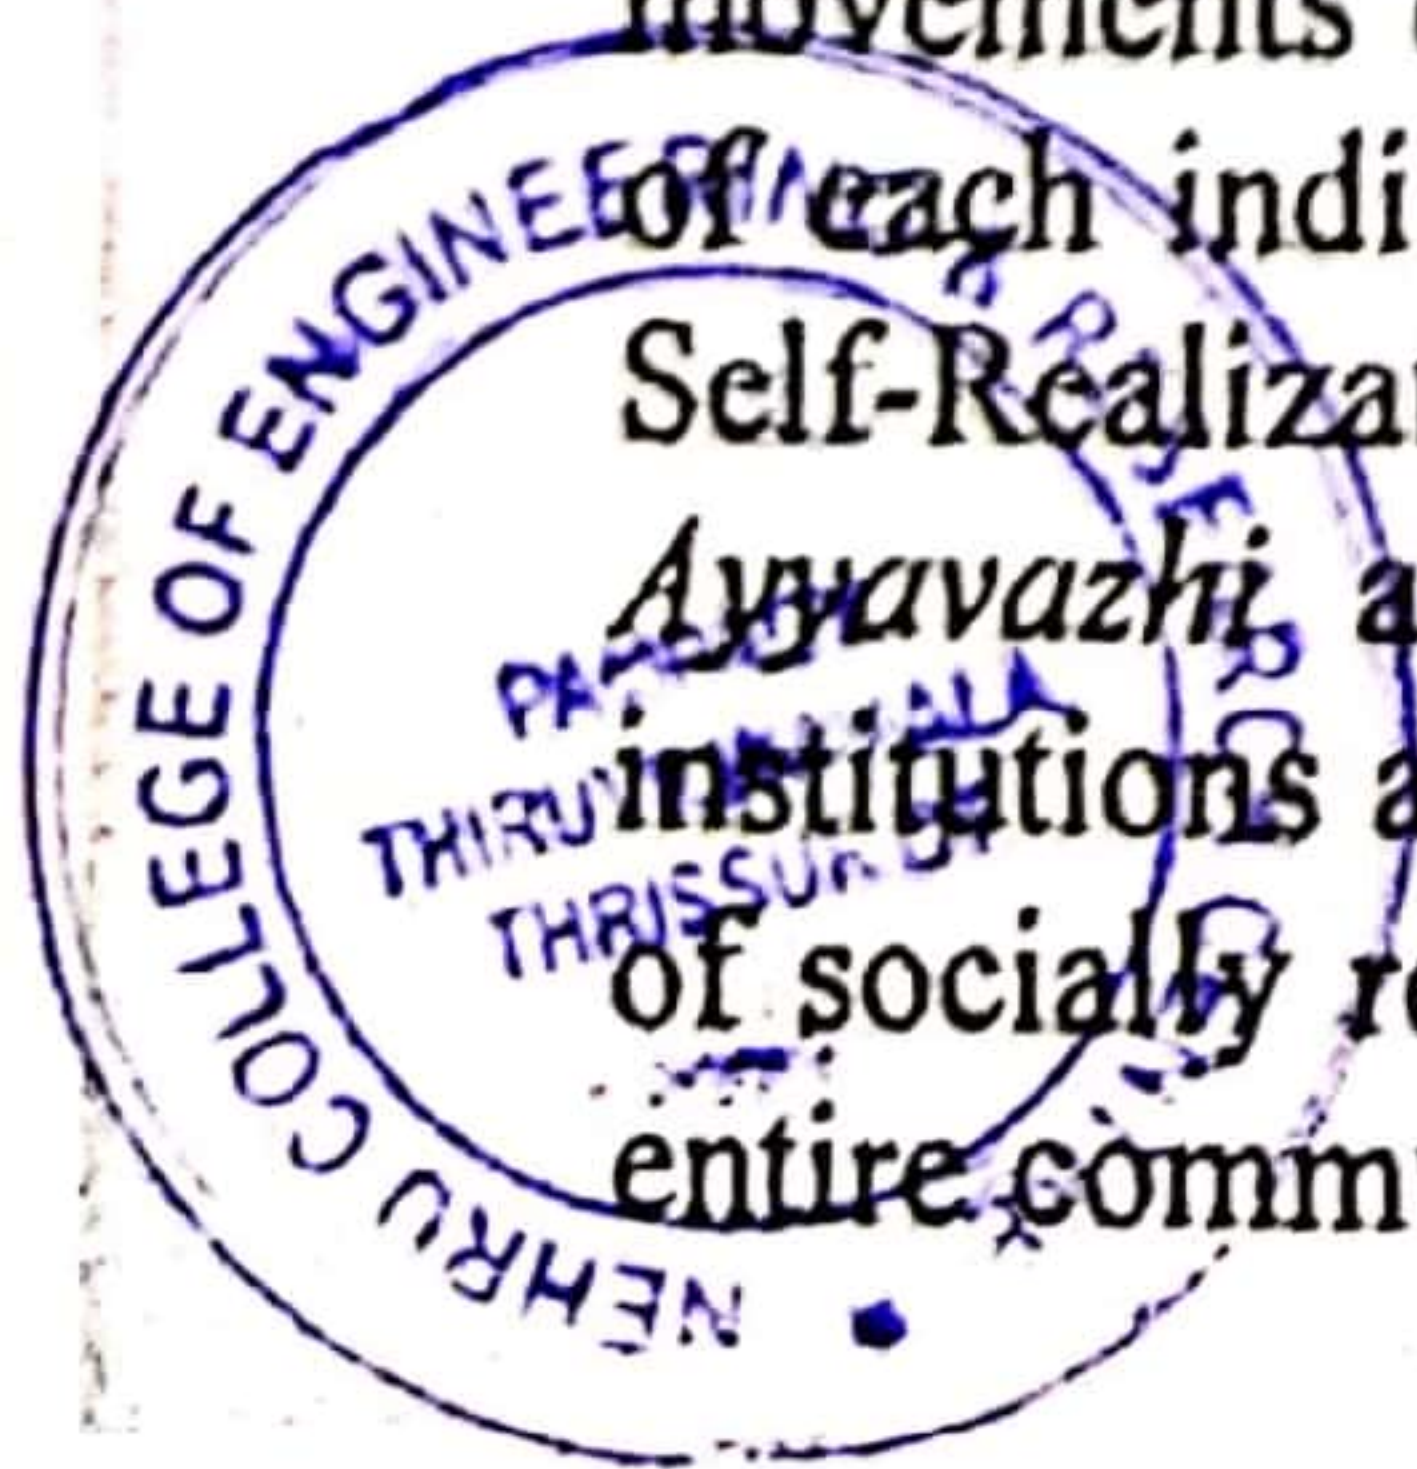

Author: Dr Vishnu Somasundaran - Associate Professor & HoD, Department of Humanities, Vidya Academy of Science and Technology, Thalakkottukara, Thrissur, Kerala, India.

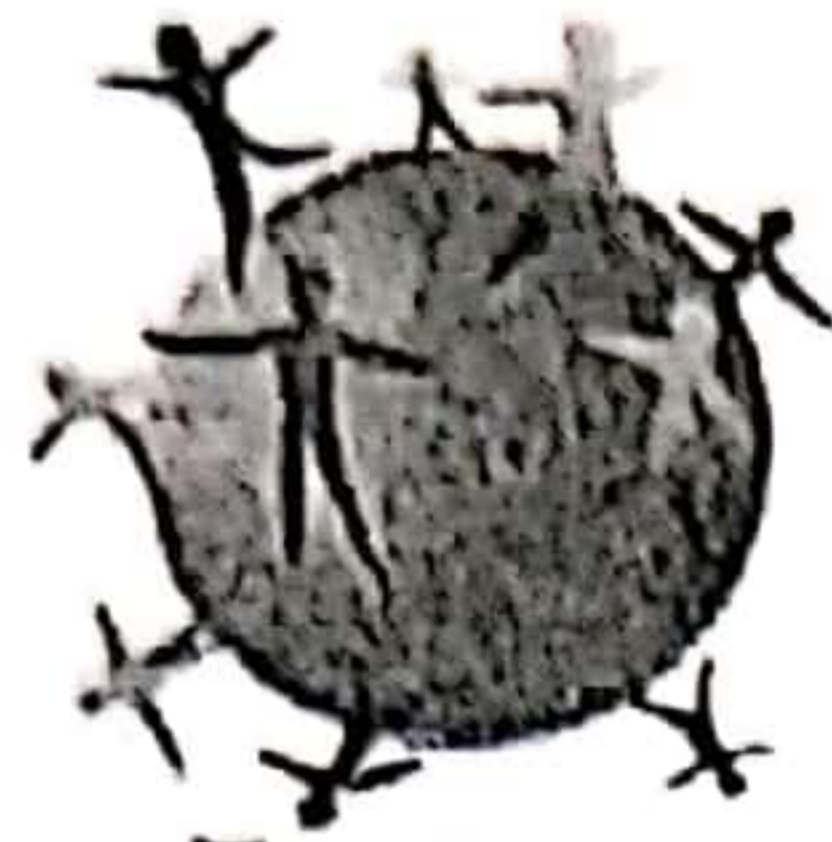

War has been an impediment to peaceful coexistence and progress throughout human history. Human rights have been trampled underfoot during periods of diabolic atrocities and war crimes perpetrated against innocent victims. While many endorse such crimes either by actively taking up arms or by silently supporting it, some refuse to do so. Out of ethical considerations they are prepared to sacrifice their own life for their right to refuse to kill their fellow humans in war. They are designated as Conscientious Objectors or COs. Conscientious Objection has a long history. There are many pacifist groups in modern times that have refused to support wars. However, there is a peculiar group of Conscientious Objectors known as Jehovah's Witnesses. They refuse to take up arms in any circumstances due to their deeply held religious convictions of the principle of neutrality based on the Bible. JW is a global religious organization of nearly 8,000,000 adherents from more than 230 countries. JW have fought many legal battles in modern times to establish their human rights as conscientious objectors. Under many regimes they have been behind the bars and many have lost their lives for their uncompromising stand on the issue. The article explores the issues of ethics and human rights involved in conscientious objection with special reference to Jehovah's Witnesses.

2. Renaissance for Global Unity: Ayyavazhi, Ensuring Human Rights and Enhancing Values

Authors: *M.P. Harikrishnan - Research Scholar in English, University of Calicut, Kerala - tpsharikrishnan@gmail.com ** Dr. K.P. Nanda Kumar - Principal, SNG College of Advanced Studies, Chuvannamane P.O., Vazhukumpara, Thrissur, Kerala - nandanvyasa@gmail.com

The contemporary world faces multiple issues which impose serious threat to human existence and socio-cultural progress. Researchers and philosophers foresee an apocalypse analysing hike of regressive discourses fostered by human communities. Embarking materialistic and utilitarian ideologies, the global citizens fail to consider spirituality as a powerful tool to refashion consciousness and channelize acquired skills in a progressive path. Spirituality with reformative values is instrumental in averting the crisis that has dawned upon humanity. Ayyavazhi puts forth such a path to ensure human rights through empowerment of human values, self-evaluation and self-initiated involvement. Sequential and successful socio-cultural renaissance movements of South India, practically proves its potential relevance. Metamorphosis of each individual to a competent leader, through self-reliance, self-sufficiency and Self-Realization reflects the fundamental value. Simplicity and practicability makes Ayyavazhi acceptable, along with an arduous struggle to reform all the existing institutions and socio-cultural discourses. Dharma acts as a catalyst in the eradication of socially regressive discourses and paves way for transformation of individual and entire community.
